From the Pastor/ Del Párroco

Contained in this article is a brief, but good explanation of the life of the Saint King Louis of France. A strong voice wants to remove the statue and rename the city.

From The Deacons Bench (thedeaconsbench.com)

From The St. Louis Post-Dispatch:

Tensions flared Saturday atop Art Hill in Forest Park over the symbolism behind a statue of this city's namesake, some calling for the removal of King Louis IX, with others praying that it stands.

A crowd ballooned to about 200 people by noon, clashing face-to-face at the foot of the "Apotheosis of St. Louis," the formal name for the iconic statue. Calls for the removal of the statue of King Louis IX of France come as the nation grapples with whether to preserve monuments of historical figures rooted in a racially divided past. The bronze statue of the crusading king from the Middle Ages is a copy of one that greeted visitors to the World's Fair here in 1904.

"He's gonna come down," Umar Lee, one of the protest organizers, said of the statue Saturday. "This guy right here represents hate and we're trying to create a city of love. We're trying to create a city where Black lives matter. We're trying to create a city where there is no antisemitism or Islamophobia ... this is not a symbol of our city in 2020."

Another protest organizer, Moji Sidiqi of the Regional Muslim Action Network said that in addition to removing the statue, she thinks the city of St. Louis should be renamed to celebrate the city's racial, ethnic and religious diversity.

"It's a revolution," she said. "It's time for change ... right now, our number one mission is to take this thing down and sit down with people who want to see positive change take place and continue to heal our country."

One of those defending the statue was a Catholic priest:

Fr. Stephen Schumacher, a priest of the Archdiocese of St. Louis, was among the defenders of a prominent statue of the city's namesake as protesters called for its removal Saturday.

Umar Lee, an organizer of the protests, said June 27 that the statue "is gonna come down," reported Joel Currier of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. "This guy right here represents hate and we're trying to create a city of love. We're trying to create a city where Black lives matter. We're trying to create a city where there is no antisemitism or Islamophobia ... this is not a symbol of our city in 2020."

Fr. Schumacher, whose priestly ordination was in May 2019, addressed a shouting mob, attempting to inform them about St. Louis' life, saying, "St. Louis was a man who willed to use his kingship to do good for his people."

Maria Miloscia told the Post-Dispatch that St. Louis "symbolizes deep faith and convictions. I stand for him. And I stand for those Catholic virtues and those Catholic values that I think are important, like courage, faith and love. But ultimately, I'm here for Christ the King."

St. Louis was King of France from 1226-70, and he partook in the Seventh and Eighth Crusades. He restricted usury and established hospitals, and personally cared for the poor and for lepers. He was canonized in 1297.

The archdiocese of St. Louis released the following statement:

The history of the statue of St. Louis, the King is one founded in piety and reverence before God, and for non-believers, respect for one's neighbor. The reforms that St. Louis implemented in French government focused on impartial justice, protecting the rights of his subjects, steep penalties for royal officials abusing power, and a series of initiatives to help the poor.

King Louis IX's renowned work in charity helped elevate him to Sainthood. His daily suppers were shared with numerous beggars, whom he invited to the royal table. On many evenings, he would not let them leave before he washed their feet. He personally paid to feed more than 100 poor Parisians every day. His care for the sick was equally moving; St. Louis frequently ministered to lepers. He also created a number of hospitals, including one for the blind and another for ex-prostitutes.

For Catholics, St. Louis is an example of an imperfect man who strived to live a life modeled after the life of Jesus Christ. For St. Louisans, he is a model for how we should care for our fellow citizen, and a namesake with whom we should be proud to identify. The sword on his statue is not raised for warfare, but rather is held with the blade down—a symbol of peace.

In his recent statement on Racism, Justice and Peace, Archbishop Carlson said, in part: "...Scripture tells us to turn our swords into plow shares. Let us turn our guns into metal. May that metal someday be the statue in our community that stands as a reminder that here, in the Greater St. Louis Region, we chose justice so that there would be peace..."

Peace is what St. Louisans hoped for in the new twentieth century when they erected the statue of St. Louis the King—and peace is what St. Louisans still strive toward in this century. The Archdiocese of St. Louis is encouraged by the winds of change that are at hand, but believes that this energy of change should be focused on programs and policies that will dismantle racism and create a more equal society for all races and religions. As Catholics, we believe that each person—no matter their race, religion, background or belief—is created in the image and likeness of God. As such, all should be treated with love, respect and dignity. We should not seek to erase history, but recognize and learn from it, while working to create new opportunities for our brothers and sisters.

Cardinal Blase J. Cupich to Ordain Seven Priests for the Archdiocese of Chicago on Monday, June 29, 2020 at St. John Brebeuf Parish in Niles, Ill.

The new priests will begin their assignments on July 1, 2020

Cardinal Blase J. Cupich, archbishop of Chicago, ordained seven diocesan priests at 10 a.m., on Monday, June 29, 2020 at St. John Brebeuf Parish, 8305 N. Harlem Ave., Niles, Ill. The newly-ordained priests range in age from 27 to 52 and hail from the Archdiocese of Chicago, as well as from Colombia, Ecuador, Guam and the Philippines. Cardinal Cupich will also ordain a priest for ministry in the Archdiocese of Tabora, Tanzania during this celebration.

“These unprecedented times challenge us, but also are moments of grace that give us hope as these new priests remind us that good shepherds provide leadership and comfort,” said Cardinal Cupich. “My prayer of thanksgiving and for these new priests is that through their dedicated ministry as preachers, healers and unifiers, they will generously share the joy of Christ’s Gospel and the solace of God’s enduring love in the service of God’s people.”

Cardinal Blase J. Cupich, archbishop of Chicago, ordained eight priests on June 29 at St. John Brebeuf Church in Niles. As part of the ceremony, Cupich laid hands on priest candidate Vinicio Jiménez. (Karen Callaway / HANDOUT)

Men become priests through the Sacrament of Holy Orders, a celebration rich in symbolism and tradition. By ordination, priests receive a wide variety of responsibilities, particularly celebrating the Mass and granting forgiveness of sins through the Sacrament of Reconciliation. Priests also preach the Gospel, and celebrate the Sacraments of Baptism, Matrimony, and Anointing of the Sick. Diocesan priests make promises of life-long celibacy, prayer for the People of God, and obedience to their bishop at their ordination. It is also expected that priests will lead a life of simplicity consistent with the people they serve.

Each newly ordained priest has completed at least six years of human, spiritual, academic and pastoral formation, which included an exhaustive study of philosophy, Catholic theology, the history of the Church, and pastoral practice. As part of their seminary education, future priests are assigned to work at parishes, schools, and hospitals as they develop their capacity to be shepherds of God’s people.

“Although the start of their priestly ministry is not as they may have imagined, these new priests will be warmly greeted by parishioners hungering to be fed spiritually,” said Very Rev. John Kartje, rector/president of USML/Mundelein Seminary. “I am eager to watch them accompanying their people as spiritual guides and shepherds who know their flocks well and will draw their communities close to the Lord.”

ORDINANDI

Larry Josue Basbas, 52, from Agafia Heights, Guam, will have his first assignment at Our Lady of Perpetual Help in Glenview, Ill. He will celebrate his first Mass on Sunday, July 5 at 2:30 p.m. at St. Pascal Parish, 3935 N. Melvina Ave., Chicago.

Patrick Bergin, 56, from Merna, Ill., will be ordained during this celebration for the Archdiocese of Tabora, Tanzania. Cardinal Cupich will ordain Bergin on behalf of Archbishop Paul R. Ruzoka, who is unable to travel to the United States because of COVID-19 restrictions. Bergin will exercise his priestly ministry in Tabora.

The newly-ordained priests gather at the end of Mass to give Cardinal Cupich their first blessing. Cupich had just ordained them during an Archdiocese of Chicago ceremony at St. John Brebeuf Church, Niles, on June 29. (Karen Callaway / HANDOUT)

ARCHDIOCESE OF CHICAGO

United States Conference of Catholic Bishops/Justice for Immigrants' Action Alert to the U.S. Senate:

PLEASE PROTECT DACA RECIPIENTS

The U.S. Supreme Court (SCOTUS) has ruled on the Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals (DACA) program. While SCOTUS allowed DACA to continue, the Administration can still attempt to end DACA at a later date. As a result, DACA immigrant youth are safe for now, but could be at risk for deportation in the future. We must not allow this to happen.

Most DACA recipients have spent the majority of their lives in the U.S., many have families, and all of them contribute to American society as taxpayers, consumers, and community members. Additionally, there are 62,000 DACA-eligible healthcare workers involved in the COVID-19 response.

The U.S. House of Representatives passed the American Dream and Promise Act, H.R. 6, one year ago. H.R. 6 would give a path to citizenship for Dreamers. Now, in the wake of SCOTUS' ruling, the U.S. Senate must act in order to protect Dreamers from the risk of deportation and family separation. The USCCB supports the DREAM Act, which includes a path to citizenship, and sent a letter to each Senator asking that they support S. 874, the DREAM Act of 2019. Additionally, USCCB supports efforts to introduce a Senate companion to H.R. 6.

As Catholics, we affirm the inherent dignity of every person. The U.S. Catholic Bishops urge you to express solidarity with Dreamers and ask you to contact your Senators requesting that they support the bipartisan DREAM Act of 2019 and encourage the Senate to introduce a companion bill to H.R. 6, the American Dream and Promise Act.

TAKE ACTION

Urge your U.S. Senators to co-sponsor and support S. 874, the DREAM Act, which would protect Dreamers and provide a path to U.S. citizenship. Also urge your Senators to introduce and co-sponsor a companion bill to H.R. 6, the American Dream and Promise Act.

Please send the following message to your Senators:

Dear Senator,

As a member of the Justice for Immigrants (JFI) coalition of the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops, I urge you to co-sponsor and support S. 874, the DREAM Act, a bipartisan bill that would protect Dreamers and provide these immigrants with a path to citizenship. I also ask that you introduce and co-sponsor a companion bill to H.R. 6, the American Dream and Promise Act.

The Catholic Church strongly supports Dreamers and their families. Dreamers are working and contribute $52 billion annually to our economy. They are a part of our Church and valuable parts of our communities.

Thank for your consideration.

Please take action and others to do so as well.

The time is NOW for you to use your voice to protect DREAMERS!
